

Polaroid ID Systems Welcomes Jennifer Fox to the Team!

Jenny Fox Joins Polaroid ID's Marketing Department

Fort Wayne, IN — November 1, 2008 — Jennifer Fox received her Bachelor Degree from the University of Saint Francis with a double major in Fine and Commercial Art with a strong background in photography. She has worked as a freelance designer for the past four years and will be joining our team as the Sales and Marketing Support Graphic Designer. We will be utilizing Jennifer's Commercial Design knowledge to launch development and marketing functions related to resellers and distributors. She will be working with Doug White, Senior Technical Manager, on support items by developing card layouts and projects, and with Amy Kissinger, Senior Development Manager, on how the various products appear to the end user. Jennifer will also offer her design support to resellers for marketing material.
